Rain water harvesting

Implementing rainwater harvesting can offer numerous benefits, both environmental and practical to begin with, assessing the institution's infrastructure and needs, identify potential catchment areas such as rooftops, parking lots, or open spaces. Determine the water demand for various purposes within the institution, including landscaping, toilet flushing, and cleaning.

water purifier

Our institution is prioritising access to clean and healthy drinking water for its campus community. Installing water purifiers can indeed provide a reliable source of safe drinking water, promoting health and well-being among students, faculty, and staff. Purifier is a device or system designed to remove impurities and contaminants from water, making it safe for consumption or other purposes.
