Develop plastic free campus

Creating a plastic-free campus requires a comprehensive approach that involves reducing the use of single-use plastics, promoting sustainable alternatives, and fostering a culture of environmental stewardship among students, faculty, staff, and visitors. develop a plastic-free campus: Conduct a thorough assessment of current plastic usage on campus, including single-use plastics in dining facilities, vending machines, campus events, and administrative offices. Develop a strategic plan outlining specific goals, targets, and timelines for reducing plastic usage and transitioning to more sustainable alternatives.

Move towards paperless office

Moving towards a paperless office can streamline operations, reduce environmental impact, and improve efficiency. Set specific, measurable goals for reducing paper consumption and transitioning to digital workflows. Encourage the use of email, instant messaging, and collaboration platforms for communication instead of paper-based memos and notices
