Institutional Provisions for catering differential Student needs

Euphrasia Training College for Women conducts Programmes for Catering to the needs of differentially abled students. After conducting the internal assessments of students, teachers analyses the results and finds out the weaker students. Special care was given to these weaker students and Special Coaching was provided to them during the self-Study Periods. This was done with a view to uplift the weaker students. This is a policy of the College that each student should not be neglected in their studies as they are poor in academic background. At the same time elite students are motivated to join add on Courses while Studying B.Ed. Course. So, this college is providing provisions for catering to differential student needs.
